The Power to Meet Toxins Head On
 Nowadays our bodies are inundated with toxins from our surrounding environment. Over time, those toxins can accumulate deep within the cells and tissues and may lead to poor health and disease. Following a daily detoxification program is often the first step toward achieving optimum health and energy, and TOXIN AbsorbMax™ from Advanced Naturals is an ideal way to get started.*

TOXIN AbsorbMax combines three potent natural detoxifying agents to assist with the removal of toxins from the body and promote overall gastrointestinal health.* Together, glucomannan, bentonite clay and activated charcoal work in synergy to enhance the natural benefits of your personal cleansing and detoxification program.*

• Glucomannan is a soluble fiber proven to support the body's natural detoxification processes and promote healthy gastrointestinal function.* Glucomannan has also been shown to support healthy cholesterol and blood sugar levels.*

• Bentonite Clay is a natural mineral source used traditionally to bind with and help deactivate toxins in the body.* It has also been shown to help relieve heartburn and soothe indigestion.* Derived from purified volcanic ash, bentonite clay contains 50 trace minerals essential to overall health.*

• Activated Charcoal helps prevent the absorption of pollutants, chemicals and other environmental toxins in the gastrointestinal tract.* Purified activated charcoal has also been shown to help relieve occasional gas, bloating and intestinal discomfort.*
