What are Probiotics?

Trillions of microorganisms reside in the small and large intestine of every person; some good, some bad, some neutral. Probiotics are the beneficial microflora that live in the digestive tract.

Ultimate FloraMax 50 Billion was formulated by Brenda Watson, C.N.C., president of Advanced Naturals and the founder of natural healthcare clinics specializing in digestive care.

What are the Benefits of Probiotics?

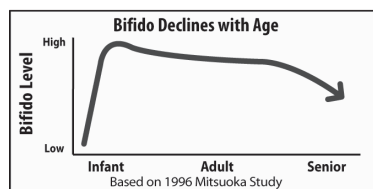

The name probiotic, which means “for life,” describes the benefit these friendly bacteria provide to the human body.

Probiotics play a role in:

- Digestion
- Regularity
- Immunity
- Nutrient production and absorption
- Production of short-chain fatty acids that promote a healthy colon

High-Bifido for Optimum Benefits

Many probiotic supplements are formulated to contain predominantly Lactobacilli. Yet, Bifidobacteria are the most prevalent probiotic in a healthy colon. Bifidobacteria ferment dietary fiber and produce byproducts such as B vitamins that promote the health of the entire body. With age our level of Bifidobacteria declines, so Ultimate FloraMax 50 Billion provides a higher ratio of Bifido to Lacto (more similar to the ratio found in the human digestive tract).
